Genealogical Research Report

DATE 9 May 2023

PREPARED BY Kristin M. Carter-Groulx

PREPARED FOR Client: [LIVING]

SUBJECT Foley lineage

OBJECTIVE Using documentary evidence, locate and identify any pertinent BMD information for the Foley lineage from Ireland to Canada.

BACKGROUND SUMMARY “Request genealogical research for the Foley line. The piece I am truly interested The Foley line I am truly interested in is the Johana Foley – John Mara and the Tomas O’Meara – Margaret Foley Lines as these are my direct ancestors – This is where I would like the concertation of the research.”¹ Information used in conjunction with Ancestry.ca tree “[PRIVATE]” by [LIVING], and personal genealogy notes provided by [LIVING].

I would like to continue the Foley line as well, hoping this note below can provide a possible catalyst.

“Hi, we have a small 10 cM match here and owing to shared matches appears legit. Do you happen to be the author of “[PRIVATE] - Peter Robinson Settlers” from “The Septs” journal in 2006? That was very nicely done considering the space constraints. If so, have you written anything else about this family? I this summer started researching PR families after >100 DNA matches formed an unexpected pedigree for my grandmother. She’s got at least three Ramsey families Foley, McGoran and O’Meara. Maybe more. I believe our match is through the O’Meara-Foley couple specifically her parents Foley-Donovan and their son Timothy m. Ellen Maguire. My grandmother’s father had to have been a Foley man as mtDNA rules out a Foley woman. All of this pedigree is news to me and my family (and may have been news to her)”

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS:

The research objective for this session has been partially met.

Margaret Foley's parentage

Parentage for Margaret Foley matches with John Foley and Margaret Donovan² from Curraghdermot, County Cork, Ireland. It is the adjacent town to Rathcormack and Castlelyons – as well as only 2 kms from Ballyogaha, where John Mara's family originated before emigrating to Lanark County, Ontario. The Foley and Mara families migrated together. John Foley and Margaret Donovan have several children born in Curraghdermot and baptised in Castlelyons, before they emigrate to Lanark County, Ontario as part of the Peter Robinson Settlers group.

Margaret Foley's brother, Jeremiah, was quite close to his sister, as he was witness to her marriage to Thomas in 1846. They migrated together and are living in neighbouring households on the 1861 census after moving to Huron-Perth county.

Carol Bennett points out in her "Peter Robinson's Settlers" book, page 81 "Patrick Foley Sr. was living on this farm when it was inspected in 1834. The agent noted that Pat's brother, John, had come out with a later Peter Robinson group and was now on lot 25, con 2, belonging to George Dooley who was absent. John Foley does not appear in the 1825 group, which lends credence to the theory that more people did in fact come out under the leadership of Robinson." This is referring to Margaret Foley's father, John Foley.

The Patrick she refers to (with brother John Foley) came over on the 1823 ship Hebe from Cork, Ireland with wife Ellen, and 6 children, all of whom were baptised in Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland.³ Patrick died by 1835 and leaves W ½ Lot 26 Con 2 Ramsay Township to brother John. In 1838, John Foley also has W ½ Lot 25 Con 2 Ramsay, and 1841 has F ½ Lot 26 Con 2 Ramsay. John and son, Timothy, apply to purchase SW ½ Lot 26 Con 2 Ramsay in 1853.

If John came out "later" as indicated above, he might've been in the 1824-1826 Peter Robinson group, as he arrived before 1827 (shown by his daughter Johanna's baptism in Perth, Lanark, Ontario in 1827).

The connection of Margaret Foley and Johanna Foley

I believe John is also the younger brother to not only Patrick Foley, but to Johanna Foley as well –the difference in their age is only 3 years (Johanna b. 1787 and John b. 1790). The combination of siblings named John and Johanna is also shown in Timothy Foley's (John's son) first two children (John and Johanna). This relationship would put Johanna Foley (m. John Mara)'s son Thomas Mara/O'Meara, who married Margaret Foley (dau of John Foley, Johanna's brother), thus they are Aunt and Niece to one another.

Parentage for Johanna, John, and Patrick has not yet been determined, though Irish Naming patterns (shown later in this report) discuss possible names. For the purpose of this report, I have named him Irish ² This parentage was also matched with a DNA test done by Ancestry user Matt Barry as per [LIVING]'s email 15 Jan 2023.

Fouloue/Foley (b. bef 1762). I believe his first name to be John or Patrick and married to a Mary or Catherine.

Foley lineage in Ireland

The Foleys came from Curraghdermot, County Cork, Ireland near the town of Castlelyons, where several Foley children were baptized under the spellings of Foley, Fouloue, Foulowe, and Fouloo. These are how the records were written leading one to surmise the spelling of Foley in that area was closer to Fouloue (the one seen most frequently next to Foley).

Curraghdermot is in the Electoral Division of Templebodan, in Civil Parish of Britway, in the Barony of Barrymore, in the County of Cork.

A continuation of research within County Cork, Ireland is recommended to local researchers (in Ireland) who may assist with furthering records from the Curraghdermot address and Castlelyons parish. Curraghdermot wasn't very large – only about 700 acres. It might be possible to locate land records for the Foleys.

Due to the time of these baptisms, early 19th century, and that the Foley family was Catholic, there was much prosecution and turbulence related to penal laws at that time. The Foley's were baptised in a thatched penal church, but that church was burnt in a protest by the Protestants. Thatched roofs were made with dry vegetation such as straw, water reeds, heather, rushes, and palms – typical on many Irish houses and buildings. The church was rebuilt in stone later on in the same spot. There is more information about this within the report.

FOLEY COAT OF ARMS / FAMILY CREST

FOLEY coat of arms⁵

Foley (Ó Foghladha) Fouloue⁶

The translation for Ó Foghladha (Foghlú), foghláí, a robber. Spelled as “Foley”, it is very numerous and found in all areas, especially Munster and S E Leinster. Besides Foley and Fowley, it has been spelled Fauloo, Faulouo, Faulou, Faulue, Foaley, Foaly, Foeley, Foely, Folee, Folie, Foloo, Folou, Foloue, Folue, Foly, Fooley, Fouleu, Fouley, Fouliu, Foullie, Foulou, Fouloue, Foulowe, Foulue, Fouluo, Fouly, Fowle, Fowley, Fowloe, Fowloo, Fowloue, Fowlow, Fowloue, Fowlue, Fowly, Fuolou, Fuolue, Fuoly , O Fodhludha, O Foghladha, O Fowlow, O Fowloue, O Fowlue, O Fowly, O'Fogluda, and O'Foley.

COUNTY CORK, IRELAND

Irish family Foley in County Cork, Ireland... As the story is told on their gravestone:

"In memory of Thomas O'Meara and his wife Margaret born in County Cork ages 75 and 82 years. Here the journey began. God bless."

Margaret would have emigrated from County Cork, Ireland at a very young age, perhaps age 2-3. Her sister is born in Perth, Lanark County, Ontario by 1827, so she emigrated between 1825-1827 to Lanark County, Ontario.

We know that Margaret Foley was born Dec 1823 in County Cork and her parents, John Foley and Margaret Donovan, are from there also. Carol Bennett's book "Peter Robinson's Settlers" shows Patrick Foley from Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland.⁷ Johanna's residence when she left aboard the SS Stakesby in 1823 was from Rathcormac, Co. Cork, Ireland. The two locations are both located within the "Diocese of Cloyne" in the County of Cork and are relatively close to one another, within a few kilometers. Baptismal records for Castlelyons only begin in 1791 (and Patrick was born abt 1783 in Castlelyons)⁸. Similarly, for Rathcormac, scanned parish baptismal records only begin in 1792.⁹

Irish Naming Patterns

The Irish followed a naming convention of patterning their children's names after their ancestors. It goes as follows:¹⁰

- 1st son is named after the father's father.
- 2nd son is named after the mother's father.
- 3rd son is named after the father.
- 4th son is named after the father's eldest brother.

- 1st daughter is named after the mother's mother.
- 2nd daughter is named after the father's mother.
- 3rd daughter is named after the mother.
- 4th daughter is named after the mother's eldest sister.

From here we can see additional possible siblings of Margaret's, as well as deducing her grandparent's names from what we know about her parents. As there is Margaret Donovan (m. John Foley) and their daughter, also named Margaret – I will use the name as Margaret Foley for the daughter to avoid any confusion between information about the following "Margaret"s. Any name shown in my family trees with () parenthesis around it is a naming pattern guess, based on children's naming patterns. The following tree is a scenario and hypothesis based on Irish Naming Patterns which help arrive to a conclusion.

Irish Fouloue (John or Patrick) & his wife (Mary or Catherine)

IRISH FOULOUE & HIS WIFE

Piecing together a scenario for Irish naming patterns, I show Margaret Foley's paternal grandparents and their children as:

Children of Irish Fouloue & his wife:

Irish Fouloue/Foley (b. 1762) (first name is likely John or Patrick) and his wife (Mary or Catherine) are the parents of the following known children:

1. (Michael) Foley, b. bef 1782 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland
2. Patrick "Pat" Foley, b. bef 1783 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland (m. bef 1806 to Ellen Condon)
3. Daniel Foley, b. bef 1785 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland (m. bef 1805 to Elizabeth Keefe)
4. William Foley, b. bef 1785 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland (m. bef 1805 to Mary Ahern)
5. (Bridget) Foley, b. bef 1786 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland
6. Johanna Foley, b. abt 1787 Castlelyons or Rathcormack, Co. Cork, Ireland (m. bef 1807 to John Mara)
7. John Foley, b. abt 1790 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland (m. bef 1809 to Margaret Donovan)

I always begin with the 3rd son/daughter, as it matches a known parent. Margaret Foley's mother is Margaret Donovan, therefore Margaret would have been the 3rd daughter born and named after the mother. Her sister, Mary is 1st, and her 2nd sister born is Catherine, who would've been named after the "father's mother". Margaret's sister, Johanna, is the 4th daughter, so her mother, Margaret Donovan would have an elder sister named Johanna, and so forth.

To arrive at the (Michael) Foley, Patrick's tree showed his 4th son, Michael, is named after the eldest brother, implying there would be a Michael Foley, born before Patrick so born bef 1782 Castlelyons, Co. Cork. *This is a possible sibling name only and should be used to further research.*

To arrive at the (Bridget) Foley, Johanna's 4th daughter is named after the mother's eldest sister, so Johanna Foley would have an older sister named Bridget. Bridget must be older than Johanna, so she was born bef. 1786 Castlelyons, Co. Cork, Ireland. *This is a possible sibling name only and should be used to further research.*

I have searched the Irish parish records and my search was inconclusive for finding parentage for John Foley (Margaret's father), Johanna Foley, and Patrick Foley. I could not locate any baptism records due to the dates of scanned parish records being not available until after 1792 – just a few years after the records needed. However, there appears to be some evidence for Margaret's mother's side, Margaret Donovan:

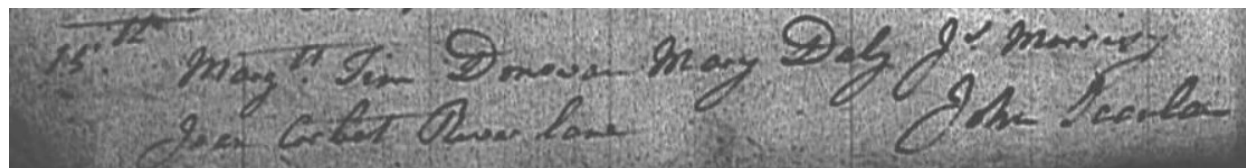

John Foley's 1st son is Patrick Foley, so naming patterns show "father's father" of John Foley might be Patrick Foley. 2nd son is Timothy Foley, so "mother's father" is likely named Timothy Donovan, who would be the father of Margaret. Coincidentally the 1st daughter of Margaret Donovan's is Mary Foley, so Mary would be the likely name of Margaret Donovan's mother. One of the sponsors (witnesses) to Margaret Donovan's first-born daughter's baptism, Mary Foley (b. 1813), was Ellen Daly – a possible connection to the Daly side. Mary was a sister to Margaret Foley (b. 1823).

Thus we have a scenario of Timothy and Mary as named parents.

While searching baptisms, there is a baptism on 15 Mar 1792 at Cloyne, Co. Cork for Margaret Foley's mother, Margaret Donovan, with parentage listed as Timothy Donovan and Mary Daly. Their address given is River Lane. Cloyne is due south of Castlelyons, Rathcormac, and Ballyogaha – all significant areas for Mara and Foley families. I am giving the following baptism and parentage as a probable match for Margaret Donovan. Additionally, it is only through Margaret's children where we see the name of "Timothy" which further concludes it is likely from her side of the family tree (her father).

Using Irish Naming Pattern conventions is just one way of helping to determine family links with Irish records – and can guide the researchers in the right direction.

John Foley & Margaret Donovan

JOHN FOLEY & MARGARET DONOVAN

Margaret Foley's parents, John Foley (Fouloue) & Margaret Donovan lived in Castlelyons, County Cork, Ireland. Many baptismal records found at the parish under the surname of Foley spelled as Fouloue and Foulou and begin in 1809, implying a marriage date of 1808 or before. Based on their ages, it would be 1807-1809 for the marriage. Records scanned only begin after 1830, so they are not available. The surname would be under Fouloue while in Ireland. The name changed to "Foley" when it is in Canada.

The children were baptised at Castlelyons. The oldest church there is St. Nicholas Catholic Church, built in 1845 to replace an older thatched penal church from 1774.¹² In penal times, Catholic chapels were outlawed. It is in this older thatched penal church where the Foley children would have been baptised. The following image shows the place and area where the church would have been before this stone church was built.

6. Margaret Foley

baptism Dec 1823 Ireland:

The Castlelyons parish register does not show a baptism for Margaret in December 1823. It is likely the date is incorrect. The date found on most trees is "Dec 1823" which comes from the 1900 census. However the 1851-1900 censuses give dates varying from 1821-1825, and the records are quite difficult to read. These years fall upon the time the family also emigrated from Ireland to Canada, as the next child is born in Ontario.

The address given on son Jeremiah's baptism in 1820 shows address as "C. Dermot" and he was baptised in Castlelyons, County Cork. Nearby to Castlelyons is Rathcormack and Curraghdermot. John's brother, Patrick Foley also had children born in Curraghdermot. His dau Ellen's baptism 1819 shows "C. Dermitt" as well.

The nearest townland name which would match this abbreviation would be Curraghdermot.

Curraghdermot is in the Electoral Division of Templebodan, in Civil Parish of Britway, in the Barony of Barrymore, in the County of Cork²¹

The Irish name for Curraghdermot is Currach Dhiarmada

UPON ARRIVING IN ONTARIO,

Untangling the land records of the Foleys in Ramsay... John, Michael, Timothy, Patrick... there are several Foley's in the area who recently emigrated from Ireland. Carol Bennett's books Peter Robinson's Settlers and Lanark Society Settlers have a wealth of information about sorting through the Foleys. The photograph of the pages shows the Patrick Foley family in 1823. Patrick Foley was brother to John Foley.

Figure 13: Carol Bennett's book Peter Robinson Settlers, pages 80-81 regarding the Ramsay Foley families:

RAMSAY TOWNSHIP, LANARK COUNTY, UPPER CANADA WEST (ONTARIO)

John Foley is living in Ramsay with brother Patrick. For the following land petitions, we are looking at John Foley, brother of Patrick and father of Timothy who lived at Lots 25 and 26 Con 2 in Ramsay, and matches information in Carol Bennett's Peter Robinson Settler's book.

John Foley is assigned the land after the death of brother Pat Foley, shown on this pre-confederation map at Lot 27 Con 2, with ditto marks extending down on Lots 26 and 25:²³

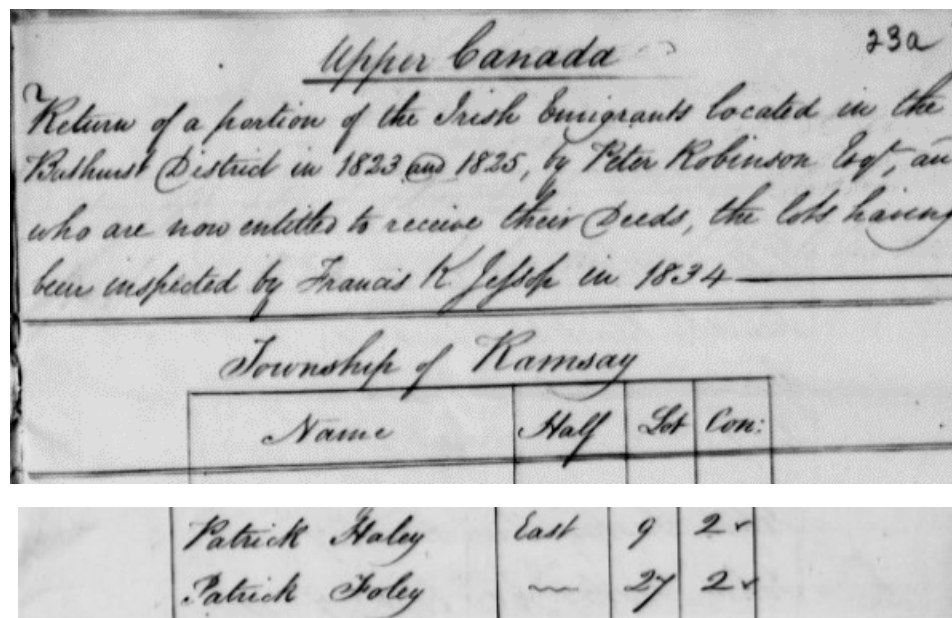

At the very top center of this image, along the top line (Lot 27), barely legible is written “Patrick Foley PR”. He was a Peter Robinson Settler. I cannot read the word directly below “Patrick Foley PR” – it appears to be “Glebe”. It has been overwritten by newer land tenants such as John Neville, and marked with a D for ditto (indicating ownership of more than one Lot). A date of January 1836 can also be read..

When looking at the full pre-confederation map, it is in the NW corner of the map. It is noted the name John Nevill matches the township papers for 1835 showing John and Patrick Foley (deceased).

The bottom “Patrick Foley” on Lot 27 Con 2 is brother to John Foley and is related. Patrick passes in 1835 and the land shifts to his brother John.

(To note, the top Patrick Foley belongs to a different one not related – but lives adjacent to Michael Foley (who married Elizabeth Corkery at E ½ Lot 9 Con 3). Carol Bennett’s Peter Robinson Settlers book has proved them unrelated to our current Foley tree we are working on.)

The following land petition was a joint petition for John Foley and his son, Timothy Foley (b. 1815) to share land on Lot 26 Con 2 Ramsay. John Foley has already been living on this land, having it be granted to him 1835 when his brother, Patrick died. The Peter Robinson Settlers book page 81 shows he and Patrick were living on Lot 25, Con 2 in 1834 when it was inspected.

Foley, Margaret, Female, age 80, religion: Catholic, born in Ireland, Farmer, Widowed, died February, of “Old age”

To note info about the other Foley’s in Ramsay on the above search:

The 1835 petition with Patrick’s name pertains to two different Patrick Foleys. The first one is of no relation. The second one noted on living at Lot 27 Con 2 is Patrick Foley (b. 1783 Castlelyons, Ireland), John Foley’s brother.

The 1837 petitions with Michael Foley pertain to a Michael Foley who came from Co. Carlow, Ireland and married Elizabeth Corkery. The Carol Bennett Peter Robinson Settlers book page 81 points out this family is unrelated to John and Patrick Foley and researchers should not confuse the two families. This Michael Foley is a brother to another John Foley, who was a pioneer settler in Lanark County, and also lived in Ramsay and Lanark, Lanark County. He was married to Johanna O’Brien and both Michael and John were the sons of Thomas Foley and Catherine Nowlan – an unrelated Foley family from Bagenalstown, Co. Carlow, Ireland. To make things more convoluted, John Foley and Johanna O’Brien had a son Timothy Foley who was a “Millionaire Railway Contractor and head of the Foley Brothers.” No relation.

³¹ <https://www.bac-lac.gc.ca/eng/discover/land/land-petitions-upper-canada-1763-1865/Pages/search-petitions-upper-canada.aspx>

The 1845 petition shows John Foley of Ramsay wanting to purchase E ½ Lot 23 Concession 7 of Pakenham (F3, 23, C-2024). His request was not approved. This applies to the other John Foley, married to Johanna O'Brien – also living in Ramsay.

The latter petitions turned out to be the right ones, showing John and his son, Timothy Foley in 1853 Ramsay both on same Bundle and Petition together. Upon closer inspection of this land petition (F7, 7, C-2026), John and Timothy are petitioning to share the SW ½ Lot 26, Concession 2, Township of Ramsay, which matches township papers in 1835.

THOMAS MARA/O'MEARA & MARGARET FOLEY

Margaret and Thomas O'Meara marry 1846

Margaret is living in 1846 in Ramsay Township. She marries Thomas O'Meara (also of Ramsay) on 3 Jun 1846 at St. Philip's Catholic Church, Richmond, Ontario, Canada. St. Philip Parish served the Catholic communities of Richmond, Ontario, and surrounding areas since 1819, and is “the oldest English-speaking parish in the Archdiocese of Ottawa. The first wooden church was build in 1825, when the village was in its infancy, [and] was burned by arsonists in 1857 during a time of religious upheaval in the county... The parish covered a huge area: most of western Carleton County and the eastern part of Lanark.”³³

³³ St. Philip's Roman Catholic Church, Richmond Heritage – Richmond, Ontario, Canada in the Nineteenth Century (<http://www.richmondheritage.ca/index.php/st-philips-roman-catholic-church-127-burke-st/>)

In the 1830s and 1840s, there was religious conflict in the area, making it difficult for Irish Catholics, as shown in this excerpt from St. Philip's church website:

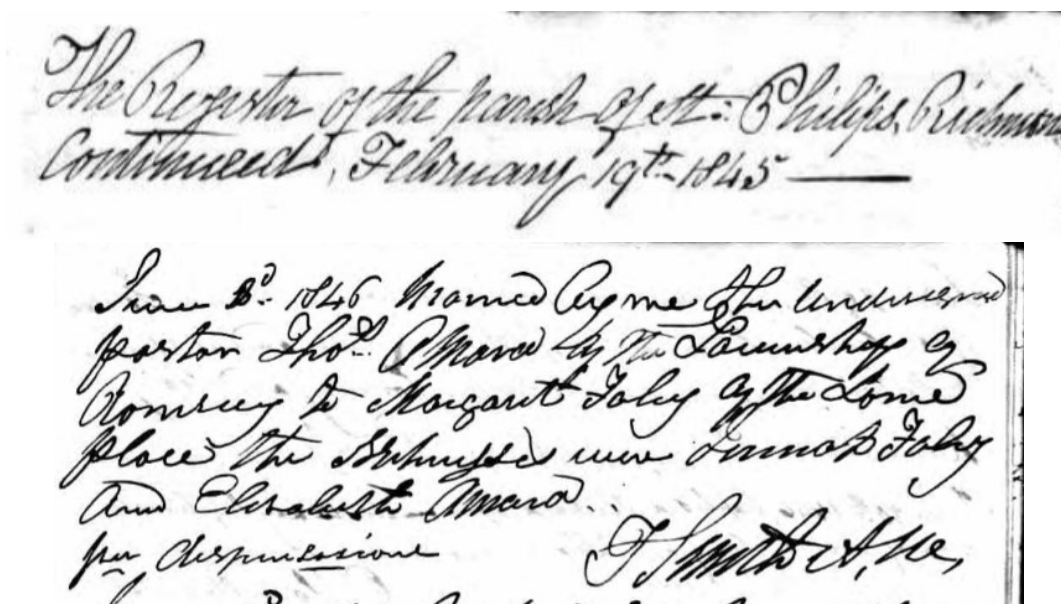

“This was turbulent time, marked by conflict between the Orange Order and the Irish Catholics of the area. Some on the Protestant side did not take kindly to the appointment of a resident priest. In August 1837 someone threw a stone through a window of the house in Richmond where Father Smith was living. The twelfth of July the following year saw a militant Orange demonstration marked by intimidation of local Catholics, who later vociferously complained to the government at this treatment. In March 1839 all the windows in St. Jude's chapel, Fallowfield, a mission of St. Philip's, were broken. Although a reward was offered for the conviction of the guilty parties, no one volunteered any information. Worse was to come in the 1850s, as both Orange halls and Catholic churches fell victim to arsonists. In August 1857 St. Philip's was set ablaze in broad daylight and two Protestants, seen running away, were arrested. The following year a new stone church, 64 feet long by 34 feet wide, was built.”³⁴

5. Teresa "Tress" O'Meara, b. 19 May 1853 Lanark or Perth County

Living with John Mara Sr. in Ramsay, Lanark County:

It is most likely the Thomas & Margaret (Foley) Mara/O'Meara family lived with John Mara Sr. and wife Johannah on the farm at Con 9, Lot 9 in Ramsay. (Land records listed under "John O'Mara" for the Land Petitions of Upper Canada, 1763-1865). I could find no additional land records for Thomas Mara/O'Meara in Ramsay Township to correspond with their marriage records. However, John Mara did own a considerable amount of land (200 acres) and it is likely Thomas was living with them in 1846 at the time of marriage. Later, John Mara sold the land in 1849 to James Snedden, and the family moved south to Huron-Perth counties (see Mara report).

Otherwise, Margaret and Thomas would have lived (and worked) the farm of her father, John Foley, at Lots 25-27, Con 2, Ramsay.

Daughter, Mary Ann is born

Mary Ann is born end of Apr 1847 (alt 2 Apr 1847) in Huntley Township, Carleton, Ontario. She is baptised 13 May 1847 at St. Michael Roman Catholic Church in Corkery, Carleton, Ontario, Canada. The St. Michael Church is still standing at 1560 Corkery Rd., Carp, ON K0A 1L0 (Google Maps) in the Mississippi Mills area, not too far from where Ramsay Township was located, about 13 kms just past Almonte. The sign outside the tall steepled church with the bell tower, says "Founded 1824, Roman Catholic Parish, St. Michael, Corkery"

Moving from one parish (where they married at St. Philip's in Richmond) to the very next year at St. Michael's could have been an indication of the aforementioned religious troubles. It is unknown why the family chose this church for the next two of their children's baptisms.

His baptismal record is found in the Ontario, Canada, Roman Catholic Baptisms, for "Various Church Records; Corkery, Ramsay and Huntley Townships; Register of Baptisms, 1845-1850 (in part only), Register #2, C". Because the priest signing is Edward Vaughn, and the location mentioned is Ramsay, I'm inclined to believe this may have been a baptism at the home as there is no church specified or identified on any of the previous pages.

Lanark County and Perth county

A genealogist's note to keep in mind for the following records in Upper Canada (Ontario):

- ♣ Ontario pre-confederation was known as Upper Canada or Canada West. Lower Canada was Quebec.
- ♣ Confederation happened in 1867. Prior to that, records were scarce, and birth records weren't recorded.
- ♣ Lanark County and Perth County are very far from one another (close to a 6-hour drive by modern means of transportation). It would have taken the family great effort to travel that distance in the 1850s. I suspect they traveled via railroad.
- ♣ There is a town in Lanark County called Perth. A few children were baptised at the church here in Perth, at St. Johns. It is closer to Ottawa, Canada's capital city, about an hour south of it.
- ♣ Perth County is far southwest Ontario, near Middlesex and Huron Counties, and near the US border leading into Michigan.
- ♣ Perth County and Huron County were amalgamated into Huron-Perth on several census reports.

Stories about Thomas and Margaret for the late 1880s:

Thomas' granddaughter, Sister Benedict Agnes Hunt mentions her grandfather in this story:⁴⁰

Sister Benedict (Agnes Hunt 1/12/1889-12/30/1978 recalls: "Grandfather (Thomas) O'Meara was in a hotel in, I think, Idaho when he became very ill and Tom Hunt went out there to bring him home to Minnesota. The morning he died, my Aunt Tress (Omeara-McCourt) had gone to Cordova for some groceries and Grandma (Margaret Foley) O'Meara, Vince O'Meara and I went with them. Grandfather O'Meara wanted to sit up so Grandmother sent Vince and I scurrying around for the chair he was calling for. She barely got him up when he died. Aunt Tress and the McCourt children were just coming home. Vince was four and I was five."

Thomas O'Meara was a skilled Adzes (Axe) man and could hue to a line by sight. In the mid 1870's he worked the American West building bridges. His grandson, Thomas Hunt, (son of their daughter Margaret O'Meara and her husband Owen Hunt), born February 22, 1885 wrote this:⁴¹

“Grandmother O'Meara (Margaret Foley O'Mara) was a powerful woman who walked twelve miles to town and back with her groceries, the same day. She was stern and self-sufficient. In fact, she brought the family to Minnesota and was master of the house. She always had good things to eat, raspberries in yellow stone jars preserved in maple sugar, dried apples and pies. Her log house was spotless. In later years she knitted mittens for us. Earlier, she made straw hats from wheat straw. I remember little of Grandfather O'Meara (Thomas O'Mara), who was a rover, rarely at home. He spent much of his time in the Far West and at one time staked a claim at Mullen, Idaho. I remember his speaking of Missoula, Deer Lake, and Flathead Lake.” Thomas Hunt direct that my executor herein after named, pay all my first debts and funeral expenses, as soon after my decease as conveniently may be:

2nd I give, devise and bequeath to my beloved wife Margaret Omeara all my property both Real, personal or mixed of which I may die possessed for her own use and benefit for and during her natural life, and should any remain after her death the I direct that such remaining portion be divided equally between my three children, James Omeara, Margaret Hunt wife of Owen Hunt and Mary Ann Hunt wife of Michael Hunt. Having heretofore made a provision for my daughter Theresa McCourt she is not considered in this will.

3rd I hereby appoint my beloved wife Margaret Omeara to be the sole executrix of this my last will and testament; and hereby request that she may not be required to give a bond to the Probate Court. The forgoing consisting of one sheet of two pages was signed and sealed by said Testator in our presence and then and there by him declared and published to be his last will and testament and we at his request in his presence and in the presence of each other signed our names as...

4th the property which I particularly have in view in this will is that certain mortgage for fifteen hundred dollars made by James Omeara, my son, to me which mortgage bears date July 2nd 1894, and it is the intention that my said wife should enjoy both the interest and principal thereof as she may find or consider necessary and hereby authorize her to give full receipt and acquittance for such portion or portions thereof paid to her thereon. I hereby revoke all former wills.

Witness my hand and seal this second day of July A. D. 1894, (signed) Thomas Omeara (seal)
